HTC Distinguished Teacher-Scholar

F. Eliza Glaze, Ph.D.

Professor, Department of History

History professor Eliza Glaze has received the 2019 HTC Distinguished Teacher Scholar Lecturer award in recognition of her outstanding teaching, intensive scholarly research and concern for student learning. Glaze has been with CCU since 2003 and has served as co-director of the University Honors Program, the chair of the Department of History, and the Lawrence B. and Jane P. Clark Endowed Chair in History, a three-year appointment. She has earned major research awards from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Humanities Center, among others.

This is life. Connect with it.

HTC Distinguished Teacher-Scholar Lecture Series

The intent of the HTC Distinguished Teacher-Scholar Lecture Series is to recognize annually a Coastal Carolina University faculty member who has distinguished himself or herself as a teacher, scholar and communicator. The awardee is an individual who embodies the University's teacher-scholar ideal of searching for and transmitting knowledge through critical inquiry and teaching in his or her discipline, and who supports and appreciates critical inquiry and teaching in the other disciplines of the University. The committee that recommends selection of the awardee is unique in that it comprises faculty members and representatives from the student body, staff and administration.
